

DOMESTIC ABUSE DELIVERY PLAN 2018/19

Information, data, intelligence gathering

We will continue to improve the way in which we use data and intelligence to better understand issues and improve our response to domestic abuse.

Collaboration, co-operation and partnership

We will continue to improve processes for information sharing and support for victims across the criminal, civil and family courts, to avoid cases from falling through gaps and remove the risk of vulnerable victims being failed through a lack of support.

Protecting, supporting, safeguarding and managing risk

We will continue to monitor and refine our processes and systems for identifying risk levels and safeguarding victims and their families.

Effective investigation and outcomes

We will continue to support the development of a co-ordinated approach across criminal justice systems partners to ensure a swift and meaningful response for victims and perpetrators.

Learning and Development

We will continue to use our 'do it right, do it well' and 'do it well, do it better' programmes to ensure victims and perpetrators receive the right response at the right time.

Early intervention and prevention

We will continue to develop and implement initiatives that seek to identify hidden victims, raise awareness and encourage reporting of domestic abuse.

Sorry's not enough